Allergies and irritants can cause significant quality-of-life impacts and economic burdens. Asthma, allergic rhinitis (hay fever), and atopic dermatitis are frequently associated with airborne contaminants.

Karl Environmental Group can help test your home or work place for potential allergenic triggers. Many household and workplace contaminants can be detected and identified through simple and affordable testing.

If allergenic triggers are detected, Karl Environmental Group can work with you to develop and implement a plan to reduce or potentially eliminate contaminant exposure. With the frequency and severity of allergy attacks reduced, the sufferer can enjoy lower medical costs and improved quality-of-life. Why not call today?

Karl Environmental Group services include:

- Mold Inspections
- Dust Analysis
- Mold Remediation
